FLOWER SELECTIONS

Flouergardn provides a detailed estimate that outlines the type of flowers that will be used in your wedding flowers. We understand that in most cases you will see flower names you are not familiar with. We highly recommend that you make yourself familiar with the flowers outlined in your estimate. You can do this via Google or and we are happy to assist you with this process. It is the Client's responsibility to ensure that they are aware and happy with the flower breakdown before accepting the quote.

Where photos have been provided by the Client and Flouergardn, and inserted into the estimate – these images and flowers within the images are used as a guide only and does not always reflect the final outcome of the arrangements. Please be aware that a lot of web based images are edited and colour altered to make an attractive picture – not all the colors are a true reflection of what Mother Nature creates.

We do not replicate other florist's work exactly and as we are working with Mother Nature, we are not in control of seasonal changes or availability. Flouergardn will endeavor to reflect the style, colour and shape as detailed in the estimate and pictures to the best of our ability. It is important that the Client understands that individual flowers, bouquets and arrangements all vary to some degree. Their individuality is what makes them unique for you alone.

All attempts will be made in regards to colours and types of flowers and materials requested. However, please understand that flowers and other floral materials are seasonal and that prices may vary. We may use floral material that is imported from overseas and therefore can be unpredictable. Sometimes the items requested are not available. Substitutes will be similar (as close as possible) for flowers and floral materials, and if they are significantly different contact will be made with the Client to seek any further instructions.

Please note that Substitution decisions are sometimes required to be made quickly – due to air freight, supplier and transportation requirements. Flouergardn reserve the right to make substitution decisions based on the prior conversations and emails with the Client, and use our knowledge of the Client's overall theme and colour scheme to provide a substitution that maintains the overall look and style the client wishes.

Flouergardn also reserves the right to substitute a requested flower with another of similar design, colour and equal value, should circumstances beyond our control require so – and also if such products do not meet Flouergardn's high standards of product quality. Where measurements have been provided for bouquet and floral arrangements, this sizing is a guide only. Floral arrangements and bouquets are created using flowers that vary in size and shape throughout their natural season. This can affect the sizing of the products we provide, making bouquets and arrangements slightly smaller or larger.

Flouergardn accepts no responsibility for variations in size.
